Wintry showers overnight will lead to a risk of ice

What to expect

- Probably some icy patches on some untreated roads, pavements and cycle paths

Further details

Wintry showers will become frequent and occasionally heavy during the early hours of Thursday morning leading to a risk of ice on untreated surfaces or where salt treatment has been washed off by rain. Snow is expected to fall inland giving a few cm in places, especially above 150 metres. Showers will ease from the south later in the warning period.
